Who Done It? Solve the Medical Mystery (Who Done It?) is a middle school, health career awareness program created and developed by Catskill Hudson Area Health Education Center (Catskill Hudson AHEC) in coordination with the Communications & Journalism department of the Ulster BOCES New Visions Education Careers Exploration Program. Who Done It? is similar to a murder mystery, only with a better outcome. In an amusing way, the storyline presents a crime that the audience must solve. However, each of the four suspects has a physical ailment that requires medical treatment, which must be taken into consideration during the investigation. The audience will decide Who Done It? by assessing the crime and physical ailments to determine who they believe could have physically committed the crime. After all the clues are given, the DVD is paused and the audience is given a questionnaire to complete

which contains multiple choice, medically-related questions correlating with the DVD. The last question is, "According to the evidence and taking into consideration the physical health of all of the suspects, who do you think committed the crime?" When the questionnaires are completed and handed in, the video resumes with the lab analysis of the evidence taken from the crime scene and the culprit is revealed.

Who Done It? is available on DVD format. The complete Who Done It? program includes the DVD, Student Questionnaire, Instructor Answer Sheet, a Worksheet, 2 Information Sheets and DVD instructions. Who Done It? is ideal for middle schools, after school organizations, youth bureaus and anyone who would like to solve a mystery and learn about health occupations in the process.
